VIJITH SIVADASAN

ABOUT

A technophile entrepreneur, driven by an acute sense of detail and innovative streak with a global track record spanning over a decade and an extensive backup of corporate exposure. He founded Codelattice with two other partners in 2009.

EARLY LIFE

Growing up in a business family, Vijith Sivadasan learned the dynamics of intelligent money management at an early age. As early as college, he was prepared for his real calling of entrepreneurship and successfully ran a couple of small businesses.

CAREER

Landing a dream job at Inosys at the age of 22, Vijith soon transformed into a corporate professional. Later, he pursued extremely rewarding stints at global majors such as GE Healthcare, AON, and Northwestern Mutual in various capacities worldwide.

CODELATTICE

Vijith persistently led Codelattice for over a decade as an entrepreneurial employee before deciding to go full-time on his startup in 2018. Codelattice is a global digital technology company delivering customer-centric solutions with a tech-first approach.

INVESTOR

With investments in several companies, including FreshToHome, Above-5, Booked Happy, Igloopupa, Level74, Bayzon, and Digital Orange, Vijith has been nurturing numerous companies globally, helping them grow and manage exits.

MENTOR

Vijith is also a Co-founder of V2Angel, an innovative technology incubator. His affinity for ingenious and creative ideas and his passion for aggressively hunting down path-breaking solutions make him an excellent mentor for budding startups.

THE EDGE

The impeccable technical expertise and global exposure give Vijith a gleaming edge in the distinctive business pursuits and bring the best out of every concern he associates with.

MY MISSION AT CODELATTICE

We established Codelattice with this sense of infinite possibilities. The company is poised for growth. We want to be known for the simplicity and usability of our solutions and products. We tackle every problem not just for an immediate fix but knowing it has a greater meaning and value in the days to come. Together our team, leaders, partners, and stakeholders stand as 'the best troop,' empowering and inspiring each other.

MY MESSAGE

Some of the most significant accomplishments of humankind have been achieved right in the face of widespread skepticism. Human beings have overcome even the most pressing challenges through individual grit and determination.

Kites rise against, not with the wind! Fear of an adverse outcome stops us from going forward in life many times.

Our mind inflates the challenges we face, forcing us to doubt our strategy, strength, and character. This is where having strong willpower helps us sustain.

I genuinely believe that each one of us is endowed with the strength and courage needed to face challenges head-on and to create new opportunities, not just for ourselves but for others as well. I hope that we manage to see those qualities within ourselves and the sense of possibility within us.
